OFFICE OF PETITIONS

Dear Sir:

I received your Current Fee Schedule in response to my call to your office requesting the forms I needed to fill out to have my patent reinstated, but something new has come up.

According to your OG Notices: 26 August 2003, Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fee, my patent (5,915,650) was cancelled on June 29, 2003 for failure to pay the fees for its first 3.5 years:
<http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/com/sol/og/2003/week34/patexpi.htm>

On researching the issue further, I found a letter from my patent attorney John C. Smith, dated December 31, 2002 advising me to pay the first maintenance fee of $805.00, including $300 for Legal fee for preparation and filing of the maintenance fee, which I paid him (a copy of his letter and cancelled check is enclosed). Evidently, he either did not forward you the maintenance fee I paid him, or some other error occurred.

I emailed John C. Smith (pattaty@bellsouth.net) on 09/12/2012 but have not received a reply. He seems to have moved. Please check for any errors and re-instate my patent as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Enrique G. Petrovich Cpt USAR DC Ret

To: Director, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Subject: Cancelled Patent

Dear Sir or Madam:

My patent number 5,915,650, Aircraft Wing With Dual Axis Mobility, June 29, 1999 was cancelled without notifying me by email, post card, or by phone that maintenance fees were due. Had I been billed, I would have promptly paid the fees.

Please reinstate my patent and charge all future maintenance fees on my two patents to my credit card (on file) to avoid this problem. Include any late charges if you must.

Thank you,

Dr. Enrique G. Petrovich

U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

Dear Enrique,

The renewal period for the above referenced patent has begun. The U.S. Patent & Trademark Office ("PTO") requires the payment of periodic maintenance fees during the course of a patent's life to prevent early expiration. The first maintenance fee for your patent must be received by the PTO no later than June 28, 2003 to avoid early termination of the patent. The costs will be as follows:

USPTO fee for the first four year extension	$505.00
Legal fee for preparation and filing of the maintenance fee	$300.00
Total	$805.00

Paid 5/4/03

If you want to have my office prepare and file the maintenance fee for you, please advise my office as soon as possible. I will also need a check, payable to John C. Smith, P.A., for the above total amount. No action will be taken without your instructions.

Yours truly,

John C. Smith
